SAFETY INFORMATION

Please familiarize yourself with this valuable safety information to prepare you in the event of an emergency. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us. Please notify the Front Desk if you are an ADA guest.

IN YOUR ROOM

Take note of the Emergency Exit Diagram and Instructions behind the guest room door. Familiarize yourself with the emergency exits and nearby portable fire extinguishers. All guest rooms and hallways are equipped with smoke detectors, sprinklers and public-address speakers.

IN CASE OF ALARM

In the case of an actual emergency, you will receive instructions via the public-address system in your room. Listen for instructions over the public-address system and follow all instructions given.

TO REPORT AN EMERGENCY

In case you need emergency assistance, dial ext. 77911 on any house phone or 702.632.7911 from an outside line. In addition to house phones in your room, there are house phones located in each emergency exit stairway.

EXITING THE ROOM IN AN EMERGENCY

- Exit with caution. Test the exit door for heat before opening it.
- Look for thick smoke. If there is thick smoke, try another exit or return to your room.
- In case of fire, NEVER use the elevators to evacuate.

SMOKING

Smoking is prohibited in all rooms. Please only smoke in designated smoking areas.

FIRE SAFETY

- Do not cook in your room.
- Candles or any open-flame products are prohibited.

WHERE EAST MEETS WEST

THE SUSH MACHIDA STORY

“I am trying to fight against all the natural elements like gravity and time. I like to deal with something we can’t control.” – Sush Machida

Sush Machida is a Japanese-born painter based in Las Vegas. Growing up as a child in a place where traditional, pop, high-tech and low-tech cultures all meet and coexist, it was normal for Machida to go skateboarding after tea ceremony or start a painting after performing with his punk rock band. Influenced by 18th century Japanese masters, such as Itō Jakuchū and Maruyama Ōkyo, he fuses Eastern and Western traditions to create vibrant, controlled and pure paintings. His veracious appetite for bright color has helped to further develop his aesthetic into a unique and attention-grabbing experience for viewers. A single line of color is often the combination of several layers of pigment. No white is truly white, nor black truly black. Rolling waves, fluffy clouds, tigers, fish and birds — all featured in his work — ultimately create harmonious compositions that address nature, culture and a sense of order. Through extensive research and various sources, Machida adds elements of 1980s Japanese graffiti-tagging culture and found-handwriting samples to build another connection to contemporary society.

Machida’s work (Yokoso Las Vegas) is on view in the lobby as part of the ongoing Delano Art Series.
Please see page 9 for information on Sush’s latest installation for Delano.

SWEETER THAN EVER

EXECUTIVE PASTRY CHEF ORADY DITGNAVONG

For Chef Orady Ditgnavong, creating amazing desserts is the sweetest challenge of all. As the Executive Pastry Chef at Rivea, she is responsible for creating some of the tastiest pastries found anywhere in Las Vegas.

After graduating from culinary school in Nice, France, Ditgnavong spent two years mastering the art of pastries. From French pastry shops to boutique hotels in California and beyond, she's honed her craft under the tutelage of great chefs including Jean-Philippe Maury and Rivea's own Alain Ducasse.

Under Ditgnavong's leadership, all desserts, pastries and breads created for Rivea and Skyfall Lounge are made fresh in-house daily. "We are in the business of pleasing people, and I often think about flavors, styles or themes that people close to me would enjoy," she said. "I do focus more on flavors and always create a dessert with the mindset that a dessert has to be light, with balanced flavors and not too sweet, to nicely finish a meal."

A CHOCOLATE SOUFFLÉ DREAMS ARE MADE OF

Here's an insider tip on the art of the creation of the perfect chocolate soufflé. Chef Ditgnavong tells us that while mixing in the egg whites, it is very important to gently fold them into the mix. Failure to do so will deflate the batter, and the soufflé will not rise properly.

DELANO ART SERIES

Yokoso Las Vegas
March 13, 2019 – June 12, 2019

Featuring new works by Sush Machida, the Delano Art Series is a quarterly exhibition platform that showcases the work of Las Vegas and regionally based artists. Combining the aesthetics of modern, pop art, traditional Japanese symmetry and animal motifs, Machida takes over the lobby of Delano with his vibrant, abstract linework. Working in layers of color, graffiti, hand-painted wood grain and animal representations, his paintings bring Delano's desert-focused lobby to life with a meeting of Eastern and Western themes. Machida's work has been exhibited in Tokyo, San Francisco, Los Angeles, New Orleans, Santa Fe and Las Vegas.

Celebrating his 20th year living in Las Vegas, Machida has a retrospective at the Sahara West Library, Twenty Years in Las Vegas, on view through April 27, 2019. If you are interested in seeing this stunning survey of Sush Machida's work, the library is located at 9600 W. Sahara Ave.

HOW TO DRAW A KOI FISH

1. THE HEAD. Draw a triangle with rounded points and circles on either side for the eyes.
2. THE BODY. Draw a long, curved, slim oval coming off the upper right of the rounded triangle. Narrow the oval toward the end.
3. THE TAIL. Draw a big M-like shape at the end of the oval.
4. THE FINS. Draw two triangles on each side of the body and a rectangle on the top of the head and back.
5. ADD THE DEETS. Outline the shapes, add details as you outline, including details on the fins and whiskers on the face.
6. FISH SCALES. Erase the sketch lines and draw scales on the body.
7. TIME TO COLOR!
